Who is the Service for?

The NHS Early Years Service is for children aged 3 years to entry into Reception class, and the Early Years Special Educational Needs Service is from birth also through to entry into Reception class.

Both services are for children who have speech, language and communication needs or a feeding and swallowing difficulty.

Children can be referred to our NHS service by a parent, Health Visitor, GP, consultant, nursery or school. If you are unsure about referring you can contact us to talk about your concerns before making a referral. Further guidance about making a referral is available at the end of this leaflet – Appendix One & Appendix Three.

What to Expect

We offer all children an initial assessment with a registered Speech and Language Therapist within four weeks of referral. Following that initial assessment we will work with you to agree a plan of care for your child, provide a written care plan to home and a copy, if required, for nursery/school. We provide early intervention following best practice guidelines. Your child will be discharged if they do not currently require speech and language therapy intervention.

Children and Families may Require Speech and Language Therapy if:

1. They are not meeting speech and language milestones for their age / developmental level
2. They have medical / health needs that impact upon the development of their speech, language and communication skills
3. They are stammering
4. They have no means of communication
5. They have limited/no interaction with other children and/or adults
6. They have difficulties with eating and drinking
7. There are signs of 'Selective Mutism' e.g. not talking at school or nursery after 6 months of attending

You Don't Need to be Seen by a Speech and Language Therapist if:

1. Your child is learning English as an additional language and your child is developing normally in their first language
2. Your child's difficulties are due to limited attention and listening skills or behaviour difficulties
3. If your child has a known condition or syndrome e.g. Downs Syndrome, Autism, but does not have specific speech and language difficulties
4. If your child has delayed weaning or limited food preferences or aversions

Information for patients

Further guidance about supporting communication development is available at the end of this leaflet – Appendix Two.

Children with an Education and Health Care Plan

If your child has specific speech and language targets on their Education and Health Care Plan we will provide intervention for your child in their Educational setting. We provide updated information for the Local Authority as part of the Education and Health Care Plan process.

What will happen next?

For children within the Early Years Service where speech and language therapy intervention is required you and your child will be offered therapy sessions, either with a Speech and Language Therapist or a Speech and Language Therapy Assistant. These sessions usually take place in clinic/children's centre. This may involve:

- A one off demonstration session to deliver a pack of work for you or the school/nursery to carry out
- A workbook for home or school/nursery
- Weekly/fortnightly speech therapy sessions with you and your child. This will be for a set period of time with specific targets

For children within the Early Years Special Educational Needs Service where speech and language therapy intervention is required you and your child will be offered therapy sessions, either with a Speech and Language Therapist or a Speech and Language Therapy Assistant. These sessions may be offered at home, or within clinic or nursery settings. Activities and ideas will be shared with parents and setting practitioner to support outcomes agreed for the child.

Your Child will be Discharged from Our Service when:

- Your child's speech and language skills are following normal developmental patterns or are within the normal range for their age
- Your child's speech and language skills are in line with their general development and learning
- Speech and language is not your child's current primary need e.g. if the referral is relating to behaviour, social communication, attention and listening
- Advice and support have been given and you can continue with strategies and activities at home and / or school. We will advise you to refer your child again if they need further intervention

Information for patients

- Support strategies are already in place and there is no current evidence about how this is being implemented
- Your child does not yet have sufficient attention or self-awareness/motivation for therapy at this time
- Functional communication has been achieved
- You do not bring your child for their appointments
- Please note: We do not offer a service for children with hearing impairment, where hearing is not aided to normal hearing thresholds
